Affair Was Strictly a Men's Supper

By Delia C. Paul in Smith-Left Building

The Landmark Hotel at this corner last week twenty-four hour sporting event was a hit. The management of the club having given a few notices in the paper, the event was a social success. The place was crowded to capacity and every member of the club was there.

Capt. Long for guide and delineator, Mr. Ely gave the report she had read at the first meeting of the club.

The lecture was given by Mr. Ely and it was a great success. The members of the club and their friends were all present, and the meeting was listened to with great interest.

The service of the Hyndville League was held last Sunday evening, and the influence of the service was evident in the over-all response.

The Junior Department is making a special appeal to all of our young people to be sure to come to the services during the week. Fr. Mr. Robertson, who will have charge of the services throughout the week, will open the services at 7:30 Saturday evening.

In the M. E. Church this week the Sunday School is making arrangements to entertain the young people and the church members at its annual Christmas party on the evening of December 24.

Dr. Kennedy’s Favorite Remedy—E. C. Headley and son, Adam, and John D. Bowers, who have been working in the stock yards, finally completed their work and returned home. They are not likely to be heard of in town this season. They decided it was time to go home and see the families that they love.

The Master Mason’s degree was conferred on F. M. H. and R. S. R. last Monday evening. A good time was had by all who attended the ceremony, and the Master Mason was presented with a handsome set of jewels.

The Chester local telephone company has made improvements in the service to our town. We are now able to receive calls from other places at any time of the day. The company has been very active in the past year and we hope to continue to have good service in the future.

Our Sunday schools are making arrangements for the Christmas party, which will be held on Saturday evening, December 24. The young people are making arrangements for an excellent program, and we hope that all of our church members will attend.

Miss Bessie Killpatrick, of Succasunna, and a lady friend of that vicinity, were recent visitors to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. DeMott, tonight. A good time was had by all who attended the party.

They relapsed into silence, Johnny! the nekoolma'am. Wonder how I can—

The hunter laughed and walked on. "You want to earn a quarter?"

"Yes, I am her beau, and you'll have something to tell your parents."

"What?" said Joseph. "I didn't expect anything like that."

"Yes, I am her beau, and you'll have something to tell your parents."

"That's the stuff!" she next heard.

Johnny was reluctant to leave a bonfire. "Why, you beat go home and rest a spell," he thought. "Suppose it would be better to take care of the sick in the morning."

"Do you remember the time I came here to teach? That is all."

"Don't you want to earn a quarter?"

"That's the stuff!" she next heard.

Accommodating Rooms inside the Water Tower
Philadelphia, Dec. 6—Under deep scenes, a beautiful new water tower, whose design was entirely thought out and executed by the late Mr. Thomas P. Taylor, was inaugurated at the Water Works. The tower is situated on the north side of the city, and is to be used for the supply of water to the city and its vicinity. The tower is of a novel design, and is constructed of iron and brick. The water is supplied from a large reservoir which is situated on the roof of the tower. The tower is lighted by gas and electric lights, and is equipped with a large number of valves and pipes. The water is furnished by a powerful pump which is driven by a steam engine. The tower is 150 feet high and 100 feet in diameter. The water is stored in a large tank on the roof of the tower, and is supplied to the streets by a number of pipes. The water is clear and pure, and is of excellent quality.

THE KIND WANTED

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL
LESSON II, FOURTH QUARTER, INTERMEDIATE.

First of the Leaders, II Kings xvi, 8-15; Mark xii, 30-34. Read and be prepared by Rev. H. S. Varney.

I. The Past: Two leaders.

The first verse of our lesson and the verses that follow introduce us to an interesting and important man, the Lord’s servant, Hezekiah. This young man, who was a king of Judah, came into the picture when the king of Assyria, Sennacherib, was holding all of Israel captive. This king was very powerful and he wanted to conquer every nation in the world. But God used King Hezekiah to save Israel from the Assyrians’ capture.

II. The Promise: The statement before our lesson is repeated.

The fifth verse of the second chapter of Kings, verse 18, reads, “Now is the time that you shall indeed understand that the Lord God is in the midst of Israel, and that there is none else.” This verse is a promise that God will work wonders and deliver Israel from the hand of the Assyrians.

III. The Prayer: The statement before our lesson is repeated.

The prayer of King Hezekiah for God’s help is included in verse 9. The prayer reads, “O Lord, do not let this people return unto thine enemy, lest they fight against thee, and taketh also all that is round about thee unto thine hurt.” This prayer shows the king’s trust in God and his desire to seek God’s help.

IV. The Answer: The statement before our lesson is repeated.

The answer of the Lord to Hezekiah is given in verse 20. The answer reads, “And the angel of the Lord smote the Assyrian camp with a very great mortality: and when the Fowler saw it, he returned to the camp of Assyria, and the Fowler besieged Jerusalem.” This answer shows God’s power and his ability to protect his people.

V. The Response: The statement before our lesson is repeated.

King Hezekiah’s response to God’s answer is given in verse 31. The response reads, “And it came to pass in the night that the angel of the Lord went out and smote in the camp of the Assyrians a hundred fourscore thousand: and when they arose early in the morning, behold, they were all dead bodies.” This response shows the king’s gratitude and his trust in God’s protection.

VI. The Lesson: The statement before our lesson is repeated.

The whole lesson can be summed up in the words of Hezekiah, “And Hezekiah said unto all the people, Be not afraid of the king of Assyria: let not your hands be feeble: for the Lord your God, he will deliver you out of the hand of the king of Assyria.” This lesson teaches us the importance of remembering God and trusting in him.

VII. The Review: The statement before our lesson is repeated.

The review of the lesson is given in verse 19. The review reads, “And Hezekiah received the瓶 at the Hands of the prophet Isaiah, son of Amoz, according to all that the Lord had sent him.” This review shows the lesson’s successful completion.

THEFT DISCOURAGED

A football player was working as a janitor in a large stadium. He found a wallet containing a large amount of cash on the floor. He knew it was the wrong thing to do, but he was broke and needed money. He decided to take the money and buy some things for himself. But he soon realized the gravity of his mistake and returned the wallet to the owner. He was thrilled when he was rewarded for his honesty. This is a lesson in morality and the importance of honesty. Hezekiah’s story is a great example of this. Hezekiah knew the right thing to do and did it. We should all strive to be honest and do the right thing, even when it’s hard.

A CASE OF IT

MAT MORE LIKELY TO BE IN IT.

The following case has been in one of the most interesting cases of the past year. It concerns the case of the late Mr. W. H. Smith, of London, who was killed in a tragic accident.

Mr. Smith was a successful businessman and a well-known man in the city. He had been ill for several weeks and was feeling very weak. On the day of his death, he had decided to go for a walk to clear his mind. He was walking along a quiet street when he suddenly felt very dizzy. He tried to hold on to a nearby tree, but he collapsed and died on the spot.

An inquest was held and a verdict of death by natural causes was returned. The coroner announced that Mr. Smith had suffered from a stroke and that he had died as a result of it.

Mr. Smith’s family was very shocked and saddened by his death. They had been very close to him and he had been a wonderful father to his children. They were all very proud of him and it was a great loss to them.

Mr. Smith’s death was a great loss to the city. He had been a very successful businessman and had made many friends. He will be greatly missed by everyone who knew him.

Dr. King’s New Discovery

A cure for a mysterious illness has been discovered by Dr. King. The illness is known as King’s disease and has been killing people in the town for years.

Dr. King has been working on the illness for many years and has finally discovered a cure. He has been experimenting with various treatments and has finally found the correct one. The cure is very simple and involves the use of a special pill.

People who are suffering from King’s disease should go to see Dr. King and get the special pill. They will be surprised at how quickly their condition improves.

The cure has been very successful so far and Dr. King is very proud of his discovery. He is hoping to publish his findings in a medical journal soon.

The Found of Irish Wine

Each different vintage of the wine is made in a different country, some of which is known as the "home of the wine." The wine is very popular and is enjoyed by many people.

The original wine was made in France and is still made there today. However, wine from other countries, such as Italy and Spain, is also popular.

The wine is made from a special type of grape and is aged in oak barrels. This gives the wine a special flavor and aroma.

THE CELEBRATED

ORANGE BREWERY

Have established an agency on Warren Street, near Dickerson Street.

The Whiskey Business.

Tn November we are all setting forth to Christ in God's right hand to gatherin; with all the saints in the glory of God. The Lord does not care about our sins, He loves us anyway. He is the only one who truly loves us.

The scoffers make fun of us because they don't understand who we are. They don't know God, and they ignore us. But we are sure that one day they will see the error of their ways. We are sure that one day they will realize that we are the ones who are right.

The Lord is greater than any person. He is greater than the king of Assyria, He is greater than the king of Babylon. He is greater than any person who has ever lived. He is greater than anyone who will ever live.

He is greater than our sins. He loves us anyway. He forgives us and gives us a new start in life. We are sure that one day they will see the error of their ways. We are sure that one day they will realize that we are the ones who are right.
